Is Field Manager

Committee Confirms Ap- pointment of A. E. White, hill of Camden

At a meeting of the advisory committee of the Maine Publicity Bureau, the first to be held since the annual meeting in Portland, confirmation was made of the recent appointment of A. E. Whitehill as field manager of the Bureau, and various activities were planned for the year.

Mr. Whitehill is a resident of Camden, where, prior to joining the staff of the Bangor Daily News he managed some remarkably successful publicity for the antique exhibition and winter sports activities. His subsequent news work for the Bangor paper attracted attention to his unusual abilities as publicity man, hence his present appointment which is expected to operate greatly to the advantage of the Publicity Bureau.

HE SAW HIS SHADOW

The ground hog emerged from his winter quarters yesterday, rubbed his eyes, and gazed with a certain amount of satisfaction on the sun-made shadow which he created. And those who like to believe that the marmota monax is a weather prophet may now settle down to the belief that we are to have a double winter.

The Scotch had a saying which has become firmly implanted in the English language.

"If Candlemas be fair and clear,
There'll be twa winter in a year."

This myth about Feb. 2, and the true facts about the behavior of the ground-hog, or woodchuck, are the subject of a special exhibit this week at the New England Museum of National History, Boston.

The myth, the Museum explains, has been traced as far back as the days of the ancient Romans. They celebrated Februalia on the day on which Ceres, with lighted candles, sought her daughter Proserpine in the dark realms of Pluto. They believed that if the sun shone brightly on that day a hard frost would soon follow and last many days.

The early Christians, reluctant to abandon all their old-time customs, changed the festival to Candlemas Day, the Fast of the Purification of the Virgin, when candles were consecrated.

Our forefathers in Europe believed that the badger poked his head up out of his hole on Candlemas morning; if he found it cloudy, he would dance for joy; but if the sun were shining he would retire sulkily, knowing that spring would be six cold weeks away. But the badger is little known in the eastern United States, so the unearliest title of weather prognosticator has been switched to the ubiquitous woodchuck.

But long though the scientists may hoot at the legend, there will continue to be many old Maine woodmen, trappers and weather prognosticators in general who'll stick to their woodchuck method of getting the early dope on the late winter weather.

The W. P. A. Army

Two Hundred Men and Women Finding Employ- ment On Local Projects

When the clock strikes 3 each weekday afternoon a small army of men, armed with shovels and pick-axes, begins the homeward trek. The W.P.A. forces are done for the day.

The city's lot on the waterfront, at the foot of Talbot avenue has been claiming a crew's attention for quite a time and the result is a large plot of ground which has a substantial retaining wall on the waterfront side, and which is being gradually surfaced. A highway leads from the street directly onto this property, the exact use for which has not been determined. It would afford ample parking space if so desired, and at the same time could be made a beauty spot by the use of shrubs and flowers.

A crew is widening and straightening the city brooks, and this should have a salutatory effect when the flood season arrives.

The sewing project in the city building employs about 60 women: On Otis street a crew has been excavating for a sewer, which is about 250 feet long and will be supplied with 8-inch pipe.

Over in the Bog has been heard the sound of the axe, leveling trees which were hauled to the Almshouse for conversion into wood. The West Meadow road and Bog road have been straightened and resurfaced, ledges being blasted and bushes cut and burned.

All told, employment is being furnished for about 200 men and women, who would otherwise be in idleness, with no earning capacity. The Federal Government pays for the labor, and the City furnishes the materials, tools, machinery and some of the trucks.

INTERCITY BAND CONCERTS

The third broadcast in the Belfast-Rockland inter-city band concert series took place from the Belfast band hall, Tuesday night, and furnished a delightful half hour for the lovers of band music. Included in this program was a cornet duet by Frank Young and Charles Montgomery played in the artistic style for which these Rockland musicians are noted. Acknowledgment of the public's praise was made by the Belfast band leader, Harold Kelley, and it included a richly deserved tribute to the Rockland leader, George Law.

These concerts over WLBZ have been heard as far as Indiana, and fan mail is accumulating. Knox County listeners have been lax in this respect, and should make early amends by sending their comments to the manager of the Rockland Band, Thomas J. Fleming, 566 Main street. The next band broadcast will be given on the night of Feb. 15, and The Courier-Gazette hopes Manager Fleming will have a sizeable amount of fan mail to acknowledge. If you like your band, and are proud of it—which, of course, you are, send at least a postcard saying so.

The Rockland City Band will play two nights for the Boy Scout Circus, and has other dates in prospect, one of which will be exceedingly important.

Don't forget that fan mail!

IS STILL IN THE LEAD

Nancy Hobbs Leads Candidates In the Snow Bowl Queen Contest

The results of the second week in the Queen Contest of the Snow Bowl Carnival to be held Feb. 19-22, have just been tabulated and some changes noted. Many of the girls are working very hard and the Queen and four Ladies-in-Waiting are the recipients not only of honors and attention, but of many beautiful gifts. The standing:

Nancy Hobbs, Camden	47,225
Mary Bryant, Camden	44,550
Elizabeth Pitcher, Camden	40,405
Dorothy Dyer, Camden	14,200
Winola Robinson, Warren	7,525
Arlene Knowlton, Rockland	7,025
Lea Fransen, Union	6,975
Katherine Annis, Rockport	6,700
Blanche Collins, Rockport	6,375
Dorothy Lord, Camden	6,025
Barbara Jordan, Rockland	5,225
Leah Tillson, Thomaston	4,850

Through the tireless efforts of Miss Hester Ordway and Miss Dorothy Baker a large number of beautiful gifts for the Queen and four Ladies-in-Waiting have been assembled. Gifts are still pouring in and will be displayed, beginning Thursday in the window of J. C. Curtis. An incomplete list is published below. In addition, stunning gowns are being made for the Coronation.

The framework for the throne is now under construction and lighting experts are working on the illumination of the amphitheatre and also the lighting effects at the Snow Bowl. The pageant to be given when the Queen is crowned, Friday night, Feb. 18, has been carefully worked out and will be most effective. Every effort is being made to make the Snow Bowl Carnival the outstanding Carnival of the State and the memories of being Queen or one of the Ladies-in-Waiting an event never to be forgotten by the girls aspiring to this honor.

Last Sunday more than 1800 visited the Snow Bowl and enjoyed skating and tobogganing. Several groups of skiers used the new Mt. Megunticook Trail in the National Park Area and reported the skiing excellent on this mile and a half run. Six to ten inches of snow covered the trail and the warmth of the day softened the hard crust to make a good running surface. This trail faces the snow bearing winds, and as very little sun shines on it during the day it is nearly always covered with snow from the first snow storm until spring. Laid out by an expert, constructed and graded over a four months' period by the C.C.C. boys it is one of the outstanding trails in the east.

The entertainment committee of the Club is sponsoring a bridge party at the Lodge, Friday. Playing begins at 2 and 7. Tea and refreshments will be served at 4 and 9. Thirty-five cents includes all. It is hoped that a large group will use and enjoy the beautiful Club room. A great many reservations are being made for over the Carnival period by prominent summer residents who never before have visited here in the winter. A number of them are coming from as far as Chicago.

Needs A New Doctrine

Dr. Herrick Says He Is Tired Of Autopsies Performed On Dead Issues

A Baptist Theological educator warned the denomination in Portland Monday night its "autonomy" and the individual power of its churches was "exceedingly dangerous."

Rev. Everett C. Herrick, D. D., president of the Andover-Newton Theological Seminary, told western Maine Baptists "autonomy and great power too often lead but to the grave."

He challenged the group to restore to the denomination in Maine "lost Baptist leadership and opportunity," which he ascribed to the fact that "untrained ministers largely have filled pulpits for two generations."

The denomination's greatest inadequacy, Dr. Herrick said, was its inability to meet the "emotional demands" of rising generations.

The Catholic church, with its power to hold in membership all types of people, he called a challenge to all Protestantism.

Saying he was tired of attending Baptist conventions "where autopsies are performed on dead issues," Dr. Herrick said the church needs a new doctrine.

Kiwanis Benefit

Dance and Beano, Feb. 14, To Raise Funds For Un- derprivileged Children

Monday Feb. 14 the Rockland Kiwanis Club will hold a dance and beano party at the Community Building for the benefit of their underprivileged children in this city.

During the past two seasons the local Kiwanis Club has been serving a hot nourishing meal at the Salvation Army headquarters to 25 school children. The city nurse, Miss Steele, furnishes the list from those she finds to be undernourished and in need of help. In this period that these children are being fed, their condition is checked weekly by Miss Steele and in some individual cases a gain of seven pounds has been noted in six weeks and in all instances a marked improvement in health has been evident.

These boys and girls will be the grown-up citizens of to-morrow. They are starting life with a handicap through no fault of their own. Anything that we can do to remove this handicap and give these children of ours a fighting chance to become useful and law abiding citizens will benefit the whole community. This is something we owe to ourselves and our city.

Every ticket sold will supply two meals to each of the youngsters. We therefore invite you to come to the party, have a good time for your money and participate in a worthy cause.

The Rockland Kiwanis Club

Berger, a past president of the Camden club; and Alfred C. Hocking of St. George was a guest.

There was considerable argument over the proposed Major Bowes entertainment, because of the heavy overhead, and the matter was finally left with the committee.

THE COUNTRY FAITH

Here in the country's heart

"The Black Cat"

By The Roving Reporter

The fact that a billiard table is soon to be installed at the Community Building leaves me in a state of wonderment as to why this splendid indoor sport was allowed to lapse. I have been privileged to see and even play with some of the city's best manipulators of the cue, and among them I recall the late Prof. D. W. Clark, the late D. M. Murphy, the late George E. (Chummy) Gray, the late Frank C. Norton, George A. Nash, now of Winterport, H. A. Buffum, the late Lemuel Q. Tyler, and Earle Barron. There were many other good players, but I remember the above as among the outstanding ones. Probably other names will be suggested by some reader.

My query as to when the breakwater light station and fog signal was erected is answered, and accurately no doubt, by Miss Eva Ames proprietor of the convalescent home on Limerock street. She places the time of completion as the late spring or early summer of 1902, and is in a position to know something about Rockland Breakwater history as her father, Llewellyn Ames, was keeper at the time.

As a matter of fact there have been no less than three government lights on this breakwater, the first two being very crude affairs, erected during gradual extensions of the Breakwater. Keeper Ames was obliged to hoist two lanterns each night on the temporary masts, being obliged to climb a ladder to put the topmost one in place. Until he remonstrated there was no shelter for the keeper and the work was very hazardous in the rough winter storms. The lanterns were kept in a little shack on the Bay Point shore. With the completion of the Breakwater the modern station was built on the end of it, and I sometimes wonder how most of us would like to be on duty there in a howling nor'easter, with solid water breaking high over Uncle Sam's granite barricade.

If there are two other streets in Rockland more confusing to the public than Claremont and Clarendon I don't know their names. Scarcely a day goes by when wrong deliveries are not made by tradesmen.

"I didn't question your veracity when you wrote about the cat with two tails," writes Rev. W. J. Day from Wintthrop, Mass., "but, when you told about the highly respected citizen who carried a pocketful of horse chestnuts as a preventative against rheumatism that got me. A pocketful. Oh, boy!"

The Black Cat, thus early in its career, has been responsible for many arguments and many "pomes," but the prize easily goes to "G. H. Are" who writes those very unusual and highly entertaining stories which come to this desk with a postmark reading St. Petersburg, Fla. His story of the Southern "dawgs" which attacked the picture of The Black Cat was one of the winter's epics. It was in last Thursday's issue, and lovers of a good comedy sketch should certainly read it.

The storm of incredulity which burst forth when I told about seeing the cat with two tails has subsided. Comes now the Lewiston Journal telling about the boy born in Biddeford with two thumbs on his left hand. In this day of automobile "hold-ups," it's a wonder that every boy is not born with an extra thumb.

Places I miss: The old Catawamteak Club which had those slightly quarters in the third story of the building occupied by the Rockland Savings Bank. The narrow stairway represented an uncomfortable climb, but the prominent business men who used to go there of an afternoon or evening felt well repaid when they had gotten their second wind. And it is doubtful if any of them ever had a better time in its successor, the Central Club, which is now the telephone building on School street.

A GRANGE "BANK NITE"

Wessaweskeag's Master Hits Upon a Plan To Increase Attendance and Interest

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

When Stanton Sleeper took over as master of Wessaweskeag Grange Jan. 8 he recognized a great need for keeping up the attendance and hit upon "Bank Nite" as the solution. It is proving to be that.

Every Wednesday night at the regular meeting some member who is in good standing wins a Bank Nite prize, not of money but of some article worth not less than $1 which has been contributed by some member or friend of the order.

This offers a wonderful chance for merchants in neighboring towns to do some good advertising and show their appreciation of the years of patronage given them by South Thomaston people.

Several business firms in Rockland have already taken advantage and presented the order with some fine merchandise to be used as prizes.

Last Wednesday night Miss Meredith Mundie, was the winner of a handsome electric wall lamp presented by Burpee Furniture Company. Next Wednesday night the winner may have choice of either an electric table lamp presented by J. J. Newberry of Rockland, or a shampoo and finger wave presented by the Peter Pan Beauty Parlor in Rockland. There is a winner every night. No holdovers. The requirements are that the member be in good standing and be present at the meeting.

Bank Nite at a Grange meeting has not been tried out before and to South Thomaston's venture is being watched with much interest. An up and coming lecturer who is presenting some pleasing entertainments at all meetings is also helping the attendance record. This is Mr. Sleeper's first year as Master and he has several more worthwhile plans for improvement of the Grange which he plans to introduce at an early date.

The Grange in South Thomaston holds a unique position as it forms the backbone of everything else in the place, it furnishes a hall and equipment for raising money for whatever purpose money is to be raised. All benefits, O.E.S., church, Farm Bureau, 4-H Club, etc., etc. all depend upon the Grange hall for a place to make money.

The Grange, too, is the only place where the young people of the village can meet for social activities so it is a personal problem for every citizen whether a member or not when the Grange is in difficulty or needs help.

A very prosperous year is predicted for Wessaweskeag. The following officers have charge.

Master, C. Stanton Sleeper
Overseer, Scott Rackliff
Lecturer, Meredith Mundie
Chaplain, Alice Baum
Steward, Earl Rackliff
Treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Baum

Pomona, Miss Margaret Gilchrist
Flora, Elsie Rackliff

Lady Asst. Steward, Norma Munroe
Asst. Steward, William Nupla
Secretary, Mrs. Harvey Crowley
Gate Keeper, Joseph Godfrey
Last Wednesday night a very large attendance enjoyed the work of the Pleasant Valley Grange degree team in conferring the third and fourth degrees, and the usual Harvest feast.

Wessaweskeag Grange is said to have the largest enrollment of members under 20 years of age of any Grange in the State.

Safe Driver Plan

Francis D. Orne Gives Interview On Something New In Insurance

A number of important questions regarding the new Safe Driver Reward Plan were answered today for local motorists by Francis D. Orne of the Orne Insurance Agency, local representatives of The Etina Casualty and Surety Company of Hartford, Conn.

The Safe Driver Reward Plan is now effective in Maine, says Mr. Orne, and will be applicable to all private passenger automobiles insured for both Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability on a specified car basis for a period of twelve months at regular manual rates.

According to Mr. Orne, the basis of the plan provides for rewarding, individually and directly, the car owner who has no claims made against him. It is the answer to the appeals of careful drivers for recognition of the fact that they are entitled to individual preferential treatment in their automobile liability insurance costs and has been hailed as a "real contribution" to the encouragement of more careful driving.

Mr. Orne, says the plan guarantees to private passenger automobile owners who are insured for both Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability, a 15 percent refund of the premium for such coverage provided no claims are paid or reserves for claim set up under their policies during the twelve months the policies are in force. The reward will be payable by the insurance company, through the agent who wrote the policy, thirty days after the expiration of the insurance.

In the opinion of Mr. Orne, this 15 percent reward should be a strong incentive to motorists to drive more carefully and should unquestionably bring about a reduction in the number and severity of automobile accidents. This, in turn, should further have a beneficial effect upon Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability insurance rates.

The Chamber of Commerce is now located at Community Building in the West Room. Telephone the same, 860. Public cordially invited to inspect the new quarters. 13-15

AT THE NATION'S CAPITOL

By Clyde H. Smith, representing Maine's Second Congressional District
The Nation's Capitol, Feb. 1 (Special to The Courier-Gazette). Of all possible blessings, peace is most to be desired. Among the numerous suggestions and programs to that end, the Universal Draft is, perhaps, the most hopeful. This is proposed by the American Legion and supported by the other ex-service organizations.

The preamble reads: "To prevent profiteering in time of war, to equalize the burdens of war and thus provide for national defense, and to promote peace." The Shepard-Hill Bill (through which the Universal Draft is sought) provides that, in the event of war, all resources, both public and private, including man power, shall be immediately available for defense.

It is, of course, eminently just that the burdens of war should be shared equally by all our people. That they were not so shared in the World War was well understood while that struggle was in progress and has become increasingly evident since its close. While the war was going on we witnessed methods accurately spoken of as "clever," or worse, piling up great fortunes. Soon after the armistice we discovered that war profiteering had produced twenty-five thousand new millionaires and that accumulations of wealth, huge at the beginning, had been greatly augmented by war opportunity. In contrast to that enormity we should remember that the boys who submitted themselves to be maimed and killed were paid a dollar twenty-five a day, while those who stayed at home, in safety and comfort, were earning five dollars a day and up. Of the righteous indignation at those circumstances is born the Universal Draft.

War time plans in which there shall be "special privilege and profit for no one," justify themselves but much more is expected from the Universal Draft. It would tend toward peace for several reasons: If all were to sacrifice, the dread of war would be so profound and widespread that its causes would be studied and avoided. There would be a more universal willingness to sacrifice for peace. Then, too, if other nations knew that plans to mobilize every resource were ready for instant execution, they would never dare attack.

But, says the profiteer, "if generous gains are not to be had, the incentive to produce will be lacking and we shall not have munitions and war supplies." Will we stand

A Title Match

Frank Gardner's Bowling Defi Promptly Accepted By Ken Roes

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Knox County Champion Frank Gardner makes known that his title is open to all comers who wish to take a chance over the ten-string route. No sooner had Mr. Gardner made this statement when he was challenged by Ken Roes of Thomaston. All arrangements are made for this title match to be held Feb. 11.

Plans had been made to have Vance Norton, American Legion champion, oppose Gardner but the latter claims that Norton is slipping lately and refers to Norton's totals against the Camden team at the Community Building recently. If Mr. Norton is interested, Mr. Gardner suggests a 20-string total. 10 at the Star alleys and 10 at the Community Building. Bowlers have been seeking a man to take Frank's scalp and if Roes fails to take Gardner next week, Norton is next on the list. Both men have bowled at the Star alleys during the past ten years, so it appears that the match will be one of 10 strings for the Knox County title. S. A. R.

An enthusiastic meeting of Knox Hospital Auxiliary was held Tuesday afternoon with an attendance of 32 members. A drive is being conducted, to increase the membership to 100. Anyone willing to devote an occasional afternoon to sewing is urged to join. The auxiliary is sponsoring a Valentine tea Feb. 14.

Chief Russell arranged yesterday to demonstrate a new type foam fire extinguisher, designed for one-man operation with a booster hose line. The old type is highly efficient in gasoline fires but the equipment is cumbersome and requires as many as six men to operate effectively. The new gear worked to perfection yesterday at the old city dump with an appreciative but thoroughly chilled crowd on hand. The foam method is the universally accepted way to combat oil and gasoline fires as water alone is practically useless. The new extinguisher, in the form of a large knapsack, for the operator, has the added advantage of being economical in use. Chief Edwin Anderson of Thomaston was an interested observer.

Is Going To School

Earl Ludwick and Other Maine Sheriffs Studying Finger Printing

It was "school days" again for approximately 30 Maine sheriffs and police officers Tuesday as they pursued a three-weeks' State police course in fingerprinting and modern methods of police procedure.

Lieut. Leon P. Shepard, chief of the State police bureau of criminal identification, was in charge of the school of instruction which he predicted "will prove to be very satisfactory in many respects."

The primary purpose of the course, Shepard said, was to acquaint the enforcement officers with the "fundamentals of fingerprinting and photography."

"As the result of this course," he said, "we hope ultimately to have on file a much larger number of criminal identifications than has been the case in the past. We feel the course will be beneficial to all officers."

Shepard said he planned to have Attorney General Franz U. Burkett and Dr. Arch H. Morrell, State pathologist, speak to the group.

High School Notes

Rank cards are out for the half year, and by the looks on some students' faces, a few received fatal marks.

Students wonder what happened to those senior boys with the misplaced lipstick. Some of the junior girls seemed to be very angry Sunday also. Monday morning the feeling had partly subsided, still the boys appeared rather embarrassed whenever the incident was mentioned.

A students' rally was held Friday for the Lincoln game. A few new cheers were introduced and an interesting talk given by Coach Daley, as well as brief outlooks of both games by members of the girls' and boys' squads.

It is well worthy to note that the girls' team was the first to trip up the speedy Lincoln sextet from Newcastle. If the girls can retain their Saturday night form they should make a determined bid for the league championship. However, this means that they must win all their remaining games, which is far from impossible. A large student body was on hand as well as a considerable out of town aggregation. The cheers were capably led by the cheer leaders.

The next game is with Thomaston High and promises to be a thriller from the beginning. The Camden boys are hard pressed by the basketweavers from Thomaston, who have lost but one game. A victory for the Thomaston boys would mean a tie in the league standing. However, Camden's Mustangs are at full strength and are confident of a well earned victory. The girls' game also will provide many thrills, as the Camden lasses will endeavor to extend their league winning streak.

A game preliminary to the girls and boys game will be an added attraction. The game will be between the Camden and Thomaston Junior Varsityes and will start at 6.30 sharp. This provides an opportunity for future stars to show their wares.

The second game of the two game series with Thomaston will be played Saturday at the Thomaston Gym. A large following of the home fans is expected to accompany the teams and cheer them to victory.

The Camden Hockey sextet gave fair warning Wednesday night to the other members of the Hockey League that they are in the fight for the championship, by overcoming the powerful Bangor School of Commerce team by a score of 4 to 3. Dougherty came through with the winning goal a few minutes before the end of the last period. Other goals were made by Pellerin and Emery.

Recent awards made to students in the commercial department are: Typewriting—Virginia Sullivan, 20 and 25-word seals; Lucille Leach, 20, 25, 30, and 35-word seals; Barbara Payson, 20, 25, and 30-word seals.

The high honor list the second ranking period is:—Geraldine Annis, Wallace Heal, Barbara Johnson, Philip Pendleton, Mary Bryant, Edith Hary, Barbara Wood, Ramona Ingraham, Beatrice Johnson, Mary Thurlow, Pauline True.

Maine Senator Sees 'Confusion and Chaos' If Radio Conference Fails

King Farouk Tuesday opened the International Telecommunications Conference in Cairo, Egypt, before delegates of 62 countries, including the United States. The conference may last three months and is to revise radio, telegraph and telephone regulations fixed by an international convention of 1932.

Senator Wallace H. White Jr., of Maine, heading the American group, said major difficulties included allocation of "available radio frequencies to the needs of communications of the world."

He said the American delegation considered radio press service of "national significance" and would encourage "every possible way" to speed such service to "multiple destinations." He foresaw "confusion and chaos" if the conference failed.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

[For The Courier-Gazette]

At night, In elemental flight Those swords of light leap from the snow. Soon man shall grow To fathom truth that lies Before his eyes. The flames and dies Unsolved against the skies. That fiery glow Brings proof of wars that come and go In elemental flight. At night.

THOMASTON

A recent clipping from the Boston Globe sent to Mrs. M. E. Webber by her sister, Mrs. L. O. Packard of Needham, Mass., concerns the composer of the music for "Rock-a-Bye Baby," Mrs. Elsie I. Carleton, now of Boston. It is of local interest because she was born 65 years ago in Rockland. Her father, Dr. William E. Crockett, had established his medical practice there, moving to Boston when the daughter was a young girl.

Housekeepers for the Baptist Circle supper Wednesday were Mrs. Kilborn, Mrs. Closson, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Chapman and Miss Arline Closson. The local pictures shown by Miss Jane Miller were greatly enjoyed.

News was received yesterday afternoon of the death of Myra (Keene) Osgood that day in Hale Hospital, Haverhill, Mass. Mrs. Osgood formerly lived in Thomaston and Warren, and was the widow of Newton Osgood of Haverhill, formerly of Bluehill. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Fuller of Haverhill, and a son, Harold Osgood a lawyer in Boston.

Mrs. Charles Singer, Mrs. A. J. Elliot, Mrs. L. W. Walker and Mrs. W. B. D. Gray attended the February meeting of Knox Hospital Auxiliary in Rockland Tuesday afternoon. Plans were made for the "telephone teas" Feb. 14 Hospital Day.

The Pathfinders will meet in the Methodist vestry at 2.30 Sunday afternoon, and members are asked to take their mite boxes with names attached.

To prevent misunderstanding about the meeting of Knox County Council of Religious Education set for the 25th in Littlefield Memorial Church, announcement is made that this is not the K.C.A.R.E. meeting. The County Council meeting takes the place of what used to be called the county convention; it gives occasion for a meeting together of Sunday School teachers and others interested to discuss methods and questions. Miss Margaret MacKnight will conduct the discussion for beginners' and primary teachers, and there will be leaders for other departments. The entire program will be announced soon.

Mrs. Ellis G. Copeland

Maria Matilda (Roney) Copeland, wife of Ellis G. Copeland, died in Thomaston Jan. 28, six days after her 80th birthday. She was born in Libertyville, Ill. Jan. 22, 1858, daughter of Capt. John and Harriet (Robinson) Roney. Her father was a native of Sweden, and her mother of this town; the family returned to Thomaston from the west when Maria was about three years old.

After their marriage Nov. 12, 1890, Mr. and Mrs. Copeland made their home in this town except several years when his business took them to Savannah, Ga., Brooklyn, N. Y., and Wilmington, Del. For some time she worked as dressmaker and as milliner with her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. K. Winchenbach, and Mrs. Edgar Daniels.

She was a member of the Congregational Church, Gen. Knox Chapter, D.A.R., the Garden Club and the Fortnightly Club.

She outlived her two sisters and two brothers, one sister having died last year. She is survived by her husband, two nieces, Mrs. Roderick Edgett (Ella Roney), Mrs. Henry Grindell (Cecelia Roney), of Belmont, Mass., one nephew, Orra Roney of Woodford, two grandnieces and two grandnephews, Mrs. Ernest Pero (Jeannette Roney), Priscilla John and David Grindell, and two cousins, Fred Robinson of Avon, Mass., and Henry Miller of Jefferson; and she will be missed by a host of friends as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Roney, Mr. and Mrs. Edgett, Mrs. Grindell and sons John and David were among those from out of town who attended the funeral services Monday at the residence. The officiating minister was Rev. H. F. Leach of the Federated Church.

Ralph Crawford, Chester Smalley, Nathan Copeland and Frank Hathorne were bearers. Beautiful flowers silently expressed the deep affection felt for her and the sense of loss in her passing.

Pairs Announced

For the Thomaston High Junior Varsity Invitation Tournament Feb. 12

The tournament committee of the Thomaston High Junior Varsity Invitation Tournament has selected the teams to participate at Thomaston, Saturday, Feb. 12. They are Appleton, Camden, Belfast, Rockland, Rockport, Waldoboro, Union and Thomaston. Cony High Junior Varsity was chosen as alternate.

The teams were not chosen due to their records but the first eight teams that applied were the ones chosen. Winslow High Jayvees with a record of 13 wins out of 15 starts had to be refused, as did Morse High Jayvees with a brilliant record. Next year the committee has decided to select the teams from their records.

Pairings for the tournament are as follows:

9 a. m.—Waldoboro vs. Thomaston.
10 a. m.—Camden vs. Rockport.
11 a. m.—Union vs. Rockland.
12 noon—Appleton vs. Belfast.

Semi-final games will be held at 2.30 and 3.30. Consolation and final games at 7.30 and 8.30.

Admission charges will be very reasonable. A 50 cent ticket will be good for all day, 25 cent tickets for each session. It looks like a big day for the basketball fans of Knox-Lincoln-Waldo Counties, Saturday, Feb. 12.

Good For The Girls!

Bill's Team Wins Unexpected Victory Over Smart Hallowell Lassies

(By "Bill" Cross)
The local orange and black players showed their elders up here Tuesday night, when they crawled out of a near defeat with a 27 to 26 win.

Some of the Aces were gasping for breath when the game came to a finish, but why not as they John LaCrosse's head got into good condition.

Many times did the Aces have the ball in High School territory only to lose it while getting set to shoot. Some said the reason for this was because the light reflected from John LaCrosse's auburn locks into their eyes.

LaCrosse was high "Ace" of his pack as well as for the game, schuffling up nine points, with J. Karl and Winchenbach trailing close. The High School led with a margin of four points at the half.

The orange and black lassies are something to be proud of this year. They beat what is said to be one of the best girls teams in the State Tuesday night in a rip tearing game. The comeback they made at Lincoln was considered good, but this was better.

It would be well to see our girls' go to the tournament this year and it looks as if they will. The last

Approves Bill

House Committee Favors Pensions For World War Widows and Dependents

The House Pensions Committee approved Tuesday a bill to grant pensions of $22 a month to widows and $6 a month to dependent orphans of World War veterans.

Committee attaches said the Veterans' Administration estimated 188,409 families were eligible for pensions, but that probably only half of these could be handled in the first year after enactment of the measure.

The cost of benefits to the 188,400 was estimated at $68,000,000 annually, with the first year cost put at about $36,000,000.

The pensions would go only to widows and orphans of veterans who had served at least 90 days, and been honorably discharged, between April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921. Enlistment prior to Nov. 11, 1918, the date of the Armistice, is another requirement. Only children under 16 would receive pensions.

team that Rockland sent came back State "champs" three years ago. If the 37-38 team keeps going so it will.

The Hallowell girls had two fine forwards who showed they knew their stuff. The teams as a whole was excellent, in passing as well as shooting. The girls on an average were taller than Rockland's therefore having a slight advantage.

"Tiny" Thompson of Rockland was top scorer snaring 15 points, while Rich of Hallowell hung close with 14. The score was close all four periods. Score at end of half was 13 to 10, favor of Rockland.

It's Up To Japan

If Peace Is To Be Made,
Brookline Rector Tells Episcopal Women

Maine Episcopal women, meeting in Hallowell Tuesday in a quarterly meeting, were told by Rev. Arthur O. Litchenberger of Brookline, Mass., that Japan could accomplish all its aims in China by "peaceful co-operation."

"It is up to the Japanese to make peace, if it is to be made," he said, and added that "China is determined to fight it out."

The Rev. Litchenberger is a former worker in China where he spent many years before becoming rector of St. Paul's Church in Brookline. The Massachusetts rector attacked Japan's many reasons for invading China as "alibis which do not hold water." Although the Japanese declare they intend to develop China's resources, they struck just at the time China was getting organized to develop itself, he added.

None of the claimed objectives of industrial and social advancement have been carried out by the Japanese in Manchuria which they conquered several years ago, he said.

Bishop Benjamin Brewster celebrated the corporate communion at the opening of the program.

Rev. E. O. Kenyon, Mrs. Anne Foley and Miss Nettie Clark attended from St. Peter's Church.

Nearly 200 local women's farm bureau groups in Maine undertook some sort of community improvement project in 1937.
